

Protecting Your Privacy

This notice describes how medical information about you may be used and disclosed and how you can access this information. Please review it carefully.

We understand the importance and sensitivity of your personal health information, and we have security in place to protect it. Access to your information is limited to those who need it to perform assigned tasks. We restrict access to work areas and use locking filing cabinets and password-protected computer systems. We follow all federal and state laws that govern the use of your health information. We use your health information in written, oral, and electronic formats (and allow others to use it) only as permitted by federal and state laws. These laws give you certain rights regarding your health information.

These OHCA members share information for treatment, payment and healthcare operations to improve, manage, and coordinate your care.

HOW YOUR HEALTH INFORMATION IS USED

Common Uses of Health Information

As we provide health insurance benefits, we will gather some of your health information. The law allows us to use or share this health information for the following purposes.

- To receive payment of health coverage premiums and to determine and fulfill our responsibility to provide you benefits. For example, to make coverage determinations, administer claims, and coordinate benefits with other coverage you may have.
- To improve the overall Intermountain system as well as to help better manage your care. For example, Intermountain has programs in place to manage the treatment of chronic conditions, such as diabetes or asthma, and as part of these programs, we share information with affiliated providers and Intermountain Healthcare to facilitate improved coordination of the care you may receive for these conditions.
- To support healthcare providers in providing treatment.
- To share in limited circumstances health information with your plan sponsor. However, SelectHealth will only do so if the plan sponsor specifically requests health information for the administration of your health plan and agrees in writing not to use your health information for employment-related actions or decisions.
- To identify health-related services that may be beneficial to your health and then contact you about these services.
- To request your support for improving healthcare by contributing to one of Intermountain's charitable foundations. (If you don't want to be contacted for this purpose or other fundraising communications, call Intermountain's Privacy Office at 800 442-4845 to let us know).
- To improve our services to you by allowing companies with whom we contract, called "business associates," to perform certain specialized work for us. The law requires these business associates to protect your health information and obey the same privacy laws that we do.
- To perform a very limited, specific type of health-related research, where the researcher keeps any patient-identifiable information safe and confidential. Intermountain reviews every research request to make sure your privacy is appropriately protected before sharing any health information.

- To law enforcement, but only as authorized by law (e.g., to investigate a crime against SelectHealth or any of its members).

Required Uses of Health Information

The law sometimes requires us to share information for specific purposes, including the following:

- To the Department of Health to report communicable diseases, traumatic injuries, or birth defects, or for vital statistics, such as a baby's birth.
- To a funeral director or an organ-donation agency when a patient dies, or to a medical examiner when appropriate to investigate a suspicious death.
- To state authorities to report child or elderly abuse.
- To law enforcement.
- To a correctional institution, if a member is an inmate, to ensure the correctional institution's safety.
- To the Secret Service or NSA to protect, for example, the country or the President.
- To a medical device's manufacturer, as required by the FDA, to monitor the safety of a medical device.
- To court officers, as required by law, in response to a court order or a valid subpoena.
- To governmental authorities to prevent serious threats to the public's health or safety.
- To governmental agencies and other affected parties, to report a breach of health-information privacy.
- To a worker's compensation program if a person is injured at work and claims benefits under that program.

Uses According to Your Requests

Your preferences matter. If you let us know how you want us to disclose your information in the following situation, we will follow your directions. You decide if you want us to share any health or payment information related to your care with your family members or friends. Please let us

- share any of your health information with marketing companies.
- sell any of your health information.

You can change your mind at any time about sharing your health information. Simply notify us in writing. Please understand that we may not be able to get back health information that was shared before you changed your mind.
